VINS MARINS
SEA WINES

---

Si le sol façonne la vigne, il en est de même pour les vents marins et les embruns. Le sel laisse sa trace et le raisin s'en trouve changé.
C'est de cela qu'il s'agit ici. Des vins de Constance en Afrique du Sud aux rosés de Bandol en France en passant par les vins de la Sicile ou ceux de l'île de Madère, ils ont tous goûté le sel et sont donc différents de leurs semblables des vallées fluviales.

If the soil shapes the vine,
so do sea winds and sea spray.
Salt leaves its trace and the grapes are changed.
This is what we are talking about here. From the wines of Constance in South Africa to the rosé wines of Bandol in France to the wines of Sicily or Madeira, they have all tasted salt and are therefore different from their river valley counterparts.

CHAMPAGNES CHAMPAGNES

« Je bois du champagne
quand je suis heureuse et quand je suis triste.
Parfois j'en bois quand je suis seule.
Si j'ai de la compagnie j'estime que c'est mon devoir.
Si je n'ai pas faim je joue avec et j'en bois quand je suis affamée.
Sinon, je n'y touche jamais, sauf si j'ai soif. » disait Lilly Bollinger, l'une des grandes femmes du champagne et elle a raison.
Il n'y a aucun moment dans notre vie qui nous interdit de goûter et savourer ses fines bulles de plaisir.

« I drink champagne
when I'm happy and when I'm sad.
Sometimes I drink it when I'm alone. If I have company I feel it is my duty.
If I am not hungry I play with it and drink it when I am hungry.
Otherwise I never touch it unless I'm thirsty.» said Lilly Bollinger, one of the great women of champagne and she is right.
There is no moment in our lives that prevents us from tasting and savouring its fine bubbles of pleasure.
